Notices

Notices

- Food Exchange rates are set by the FTC
- If a item occurs twice in an echange machine but its listed once, the price is implied as the same
- The FTC can change exchange prices from region to region as it see's fit
- The FTC can seize illegal items/contraband/ or nonconforming manufacturing standards via the FBI and/or local state enforcement
- Grocery Stores are largely autonomous and pricing may not be relational to exhcnage centers
- The FTC must be contacted to setup and manage exchanges for new markets!
